

The Race

Kris Kristofferson

The race is harder than arithmetic some will say it can't be won so it gets harder when your shoes are snake (Not sure of this lyric) but I had set my mind to run.

but it was harder than I bargained for broken dreams at every turn I had hard enough to almost make it through and a lesson yet to learn.

I slipped and fell before the finish line just when it seemed I couldn't lose I can fall anytime you want me too you are the shit beneath my shoe.
