

Not Tonight

Kristy Lee Cook

Oh, yeah
My favorite addiction
You're no good to me
But all this attraction
Makes it hard to see
The line between what's right
And what I wanna do
So, I've got to tell you

I'm gonna pack my bags
Leave a lipstick letter
Take the first plane out of town
I can't lie, won't cry
Won't tell you goodbye
And I won't turn around
You're gonna be a sweet memory
But, you'll never be Mr. Right
I'm gonna leave you, baby
Yeah, someday I'll leave you, baby
Just not tonight

You're so beautiful
You make me feel so free
And I get so emotional
When your lips touch me
I just can't breathe
But deep inside I know
This can't work out
So, any day now

I'm gonna pack my bags
Leave a lipstick letter
Take the first plane out of town
I can't lie, won't cry
Won't tell you goodbye
And I won't turn around
You're gonna be a sweet memory
But, you'll never be Mr. Right
I'm gonna leave you, baby
Yeah, someday I'll leave you, baby
Just not tonight

'Cause I'm drownin' here in your eyes
And baby, it feels like paradise
You know I need to leave you
But, I can't leave you, I can't leave you now

You're gonna be a sweet memory
But, you'll never be Mr. Right
I'm gonna leave you, baby
Just not tonight

Oh no, not tonight
No, no, no, no, no
