

Break Away

Kryoburn

i've spent all my life demons inside sending to the grave hopelessly lost out of control how can i ever be saved forced to live in pain never wanted i never asked for this longing inside always alive yet closer to the dead

forced into locked for life i live inside this lifetime never wanted never asked for never wanted to breathe and feel all of this pain

im breaking away
you have nothing to say
im breaking away
from you...

death pain rage and hate giving me strength speaking to me inside i fall away never again will i see the light burning my eyes haunting my thoughts gripping my soul with fear under my skin blood running thin weakness has taken hold

forced into locked for life
i live inside this lifetime
never wanted to breathe and feel all of this pain

im breaking away
you have nothing to say
im breaking away
from you... the moment approaching to detach my self from all of life's uncertainties to find a truth for my self in every point of time

break away...
separate, break it away break it away from me