

shades of orange light fill the sky procyon 77 sets upon the soul walking on the path of rotting corpse i push on take the shame from me now sun sets in a pool of blood light is gone cold and dark start to fill the soul 9000 souls marching on eternal take the blame from me now bring to an end

the silent wait

take the shame away from me
the blame away from me
the pain away from me
there are no answers now
the shame away from me

final destinations draws near time is gone all i've ever had to show for i've become the path that i marched on release me take the pain from me ow
the silent wait
