

Transience

Kryoburn

scarring disgrace shame fill all of my being i cant escape the words you left me bleeding revealing all from another place in time our lives collide mortality leaves us

close your eyes
for the last
no more lies
time..

psychotic rages burns in and pumps through my veins destroying hope i guess that i'm to blame
revealing all from another place in time
our lives collide mortality leaves us
time..
through it all your realize its all-meaningless in this life beating pleading sending your life to eternal rest
eternal rest
