

Keep Believing

Krypteria

Dark is the light, day turns to night
The end seems to start,
feel emptiness fill my heart Harvest of stone, flames burning low Winter arrives, the end by my side
But there's hope,
you should know love won't go

Keep believing
someday we'll meet again
I know our story just won't end this way
Keep believing and try to understand
Although I go some things will never change
I'll be there by your side night and day come what may

Stars fade away, leaves turn to grey
The end seems to start,
feel emptiness fill my heart
Out in the cold darkness unfolds Winter arrives, the end by my side
But there's hope,
you should know,
love won't go

Keep believing
someday we'll meet again
I know our story just won't end this way
Keep believing and try to understand
Although I go some things will never change
I'll be there by your side
night and day come what may