

Please Don't Go Girl

Kumbia Kings

Yo, now listen to my story folks cause its all real and if your out there girl listen this is how i feel i never meant to disrespect you in any way your mine so neglect what your friends have to say Its true i spend more time at work than im with you but in this business this is something that i have to do quality you time is a valuable requirement remenessin' on the days that i should of spent but now they went, they gone, cant get 'em back all i tried to do is bring my paper stack back from the beginning i was winning and its all good but now this way its not turing out the way they should many things got together i wish i could understand where i comin' from i wish i would i think about you all time and every minute i really can't see my future without you in it and thats for real baby

Please dont go now, dont go girl, you would ruin my whole world oh oh girl, dont go tell me you'll stay, take me back and stay with me and dont ever go away, cause everything gun' be alright

I aint gonna lie, you bring the best out of me i'd rather chill with you instead of running the streets with my peeps just the two of us wrapped in the polo sheets livin out of dreams, aint that what you wanted from me i admit i got a little possessive situations got aggressive i tripped all the things you suggested pride over powered my emotions most of the time always coastin and taking love potion now im on the couch hugging a bottle and drinking slotion, love watched its way into the ocean too much commotion not enough devotion that left heart roasten now you braggin and boastin but thats ok, ill be fine forever you'll be mine i love you till the end of time you want me to beg, ha i dont think so, all i can say is girl dont go

Please dont go now, dont go girl, you would ruin my whole world

See girl you got me in the sticky ty situation dont blame it on me blame it on my simple temptation you lead me somehow, someway to my destination without you romin' navigation with no calculation i know the luther time and gouchi dont mean nothing apprieciate everything you do i guess that means something i know a lot of times you get up and just leave but you do love that is something that i do believe i'll give it all up just to get back on your hugs and kisses cause when you with me your without all competition and know from time to time you might see my eye drifting but your the one that takes and catches all my attention i know you see them houchy numbers all in my phone you're like my OJ and now my juice is all gone so give me one more chance and take this last dance lady just thinking 'bout you on my life makes me go crazy I Love You Baby!

and dont ever go away, cause everything gun' be alright
