Baby's Arms

There's been but one true love In my baby's arms, in my baby's arms And I got the hands to hold on to them

I get sick of just about everyone And I hide in my baby's arms Hide in my baby's arms 'Cause except for her you know As I've implied

I would never, ever, ever be alone 'Cause it's all in my baby's hands Shining, shining secret stones In my baby's hands, in my baby's hands

I get sick of just about everyone And I hide in my baby's arms Treat myself just like a town fellowmen I hide in my baby's hands Hide in my baby's hand

'Cause except for her There's just nothing to latch on to Yeah, yeah, yeah

There's been but one true love In my baby's arms, in my baby's arms In my baby's arms, in my baby's arms My baby's arms, in my baby's arms

Oh yeah, oh yeah, my baby's arms
