A younge girl walks into her room and doesn't like what she see s

In her reflection there, she's not what she wants to be She cries out, she cries out

The frustrations of this life are filling her head How could such a simple thing have a grip so intense She cries out, She cries out I want to be like the movie stars and models on the screen

She wants to fly away from this She wants to fly away from this, but she does not know how to Fly away from this, she wants to fly away

She tries just to be what she's not but she's destroying herself
She starves herself
The compulision must end
She cries out, cries out
I want to ne like the movie stars and models on the screen

She wants to fly away from this
She wants to fly away from this but she does not know how to Fly away from this, she wants to fly away

The addiction is bringing her down This obsession is bringing her down

She wants to fly away from this Fly away from this

She wants to fly away from this only God knows how to Fly away from this He will help her now to Fly away from this, she wants to fly away
