You

Kutless

Clouds rolling on moving shadows Over the countryside A ray of light descends from the heavens You're presence fills the sky

I can't deny what I'm seeing is true When all I can think of and all I can dream of is You

You're the love I have always known And It's You I will never be alone

You're all I desire You're all that I choose I guess that explains why I feel like I do I cannot deny what I'm falling into When all I can think of and all I can dream of is You

The earth declares your glory There's nowhere it can hide And still you let me in You draw me to your side

You are my hope and I know that it's true When all I can think of and all I can dream of is

You

You're the love I have always known And It's You I will never be alone

You're all I desire You're all that I choose I guess that explains why I feel like I do I cannot deny what I'm falling into When all I can think of and all I can dream of is You