

Spirit Fade

Kwabs

Lift your head now, the storm is gone
And all we'll breathe is hopeful song
Raise a hand to feel for rain
The walls are fallen and weather's changed

Blessed figures all set in stone
Gone to hide in shade
All the mountains we rush to climb
I have seen them fade

Maybe I'm afraid
To see
Maybe I'm afraid
To go free

The darker shadows did find me weak
I called to the heavens to find my peace
Rage and Hunger, I ran the night
Til love and wonder made something right

Soaring dreams that left their hands
I have seen them fall
Worldly fathers I longed to reach
I can hear them call

Maybe I'm afraid
To see
Maybe I'm afraid
To go free

Lift your head now, the storm is gone
And all we'll breathe is hopeful song
Raise a hand to feel for rain
The walls are fallen and weather's changed

Blessed figures all set in stone
Gone to hide in shade
All the mountains we rush to climb
I have seen them fade

As we walk through life
We look up
We look up
As we walk through life
We look up
We look up
