

Diamonds

Kwan

There's no truthful descendant, as I'm going through my last drop and I don't think for tomorrow, faith for the new dimension There's no way I could tell her, caught up in my own emotions
This bed is not my view hole, upset my destination

There was no choice for you, I caught your name along in me deep in the forest lies Blits that have come for you my babe

Diamonds, draw a river
Your face, lays behind their lies
Diamonds, draw a river
Taking me away

Will I be able to see peace
As I ache now every second I've lost control of my mind, fear for the new exposure
I should try to picture myself forget this killing now bro
To my side I'm falling our past will be goodbye dear

deep in the forest lies
