

Serious

Kygo

We, are so serious
Letting the money take control
Of the love that we should know
The music is mysterious
Bringing together you and me
Taking in that frequency

Slow down
Pretending that you know
Where we're supposed to go
Through generations of just getting told
Don't, question the control
Working on to beg
A life of always gone

We, are too serious
We're letting the money take control
Of the love that's in our soul
The music is mysterious
Bringing together you and me
Taking in that frequency

We, are too serious
We're letting the money take control
Of the love that we should know
And the music's mysterious
Bringing together you and me
Taking in that frequency

Slow down
Pretending that you know
Where we're supposed to go
Through generations of just getting told
Don't, question the control
Working on to beg
A life of always gone
