

Lay It On Me

Kyler England

all these faces look the same but it's not you
there's smoke but not a flame no it's nothing like you all i want is to see some sign maybe something to believe

tell me i'm wrong
tell me you want me
i can take anything
you can lay it on me

today is like the day before
without you
the shadows lengthen on the floor
without you

i am haunted by your sympathy will you tell me what it means?

tell me i'm wrong
tell me you want me
i can take anything
you can lay it on me
i can be strong
if you don't want me
honesty's all i need
just lay it on me

i believed that fate would save us but time it heals the pain while it steals you away

tell me i'm wrong
tell me you want me
i can take anything
you can lay it on me
if you don't want me
honesty's all i need
just lay it on me
just lay it on me
