

Sweet Spot

Kyler England

it's a new day, got a clean slate gonna get up, fill my coffee cup hit the interstate, gonna drive all day back to you it's been fifteen and a half days i can't take this long distance something's missing in every moment without you but all my troubles fade everything falls into place where you and i meet, baby that's the sweetspot

where you and i meet, baby that's the sweetspot when you hold me in your arms there's nowhere else i wanna be yeah, where you and i meet, baby that's the sweetspot when i feel like i can't deal got the whole world on my shoulders you're the one sure thing that will never bring me down cause with you i feel safe you're the eye of the hurricane chorus

we could stay forever this way while the world spins on and on and on
