

(Can't Give You) Anything Better Than Love

L.A. Guns

I'll be there when the others run
I'll put you back when you come undone
Broken angel when you come to me
My arms will be your sanctuary
When the walls come crashing down
I'll hold you up so you will not drown

I can't give you my anything better than love
I can't give any better than love

I'll be there when you close your eyes
Right next to you when the sun rise
And in your dreams I will reside
My feelings for you I cannot hide
In your arms till the end of time
I'll hold you up so you will not drown
...I won't let you down
