

Fade Away

L.A. Guns

Come to a place that's many miles and years away a place of such enchantment words could never say a world of mystery pleasures undenied come to this place of mine and walk close by my side

Close your eyes
close your eyes
sail away
wishing well cast a spell
and let's away

Come to a place that's hidden just beyond the skies no need to ask me if this love will ever die
no past regret no future near shall make you slave I will be true to you
from far beyond the grave

close your eyes
and fade away
shed the coil
no need to toil
come far away

Pale crimson lips abound with eyes of coral blue a bed of rose and sage these things I give to you and woe betide the one who doubts and loses heart
come let's away and we shall never part never part
close your eyes
close your eyes
and fade away
and let's away
