The Letter

Lacrimas Profundere

You don't know what it means All these lies and everything And I feel like never felt before There you lay, innocent Swollen eyes and body spent Was it worth? Was it worth the pain? Can't deny That I need you You don't understand what I say Understand what I say Believe me now Sweet enemy I just want to say I love you Want to say I love you We are one, we're the same Beg to see you smile again Hold your breath Just lay beside me here I'm the guilt you're the lust Turning everything to dust Was it worth? Was it worth the pain? Can't deny That I need you You don't understand what I say Understand what I say Believe me now Sweet enemy I just want to say I love you Want to say I love you Can't deny That I need you You don't understand what I say Understand what I say Can't deny That I need you You don't understand what I say Understand what I say Believe me now Sweet enemy I just want to say I love you Want to say I love you
