Lady Antebellum

Took a million miles and wrong turns just to find you
And I guess I'm the guy who you were waiting on me all along
In a world gone crazy I know it's hard to believe it
But I know we're gonna make it 'cause you're the song that's in my soul

You feel like home
You're the steady through whatever
The shelter from the storm
You feel like home
You're the promise of forever
The place where I belong
You feel like home

Day by day and brick by brick we're building
Something real and something strong
Oh, round the road and round again when I'm losing who I am
I find it when I'm lying in your arms

You feel like home
You're the steady through whatever
The shelter from the storm
You feel like home
You're the promise of forever
The place where I belong
You feel like home
You feel like home, yeah
You feel like home
You're the steady through whatever
The shelter from the storm
You feel like home
You're the promise of forever
The place where I belong
You feel like home
Like a lighthouse when I'm lost at sea
You always be calling me home
