

Somebody Else's Heart

Lady Antebellum

You think I'd be more resistant
To put myself in this position
Yeah, we always go there
Down a road that leads nowhere
Somewhere between lovers and just friends

Saw you parked outside the party
I knew you'd be by the bar
I wish there was a heart (I could borrow just 'til tomorrow)
Cause this is always how it starts

So tonight, gonna kiss you with my lips
Gonna hold you in my arms
Throw shadows in the dark
I'll let you in against my better judgement
Wishing I could love you, love you, love you
With somebody else's heart
Somebody else's heart, somebody else's heart

I wish I could feel the falling
But someone else could hit the ground
Wanna feel the (buzz of getting closer without the hangover
But I could use another round)

So tonight, I'm gonna kiss you with my lips
Gonna hold you in my arms
Throw shadows in the dark
I'll let you in against my better judgement
Wishing I could love you, love you, love you
With somebody else's heart
Somebody else's heart, somebody else's heart
With somebody else's heart

I wish there was a heart I could borrow just 'til tomorrow

So tonight, gonna kiss you with my lips
Gonna hold you in my arms
Throw shadows in the dark
I'll let you in against my better judgement
Wishing I could love you, love you, love you
With somebody else's heart
Somebody else's heart, somebody else's heart
