Creepy

Lagwagon

What if I had nothing left? What if I had no one left? Why would I: Who would I survive?

Dead man, he leaves his home Hopeless, he holds his goals higher, higher, low

I just wanted to see you wake up one day With a real smile on your face

What if you felt certainty? Granted trust when you were young Why would you: How would you let go?

I just wanted to see you wake up one day With an expectation I just wanted to see you wake up one day With a real smile on your face
