Live It Down

Lagwagon

The planet's lost And all I need To line my bed With handkerchiefs To bay my fatigue To build a case For true love lost And lives erased To live guilt free In a foretold destiny He found a hill where he Stakes his claim And he'll Build a house Where he'll Martyr his children

The trees wheeze out The ocean rise He's gaining ground In his high-rise And all proceeds from Rewritten history In fairy tales that he Still believes

He breathes and thrives and he's Immunized but he's Paralyzed 'cuz he's Sure to die off

Soon running for the middle Higher ground but lower While all the coasts are running off

Cold water boils Mother earth's rage His house and family have Washed away Where was his savior His promised road He followed every rule they Ever sold He saw his world as a Vapor life support We colonize and we Multiply as we Suck it dry yeah we're Sure to die off Live it down, live it down, live it Live it down, live it down, live it Live it down, live it down, live it down
