

Planet of the Penguins

Lake of Tears

Light in your eyes, a shine
As you made it on your own Throughout a world of stone
You made it on your own

Time it is only time, a line you waited for a while and now time has passed you by you lost the light within your eye time has passed you by

There are dark days ahead you wish you were other wheres instead waiting for the day you'll be dead you will always be scared

Light, there is no more light Now you made it on your own into a world of stone
