

Sorcerers

Lake of Tears

Lost in the twilight we sail for the moon
And stars light or way upon the horizon

Crazed by the stars so eager to stray
If we should come there tonight say would they stay

Now we're bound for ground patrol
When we were ment to find them all
Sorcerers

We sail for the sun and the twinkling ones
How careless they play, must be the reason

Dazed by the starlight, to find us a reason we go
And if we should come there tonight say would we know

Now we're bound for ground patrol
When we were ment to find them all
Sorcerers

Now we're bound for ground patrol
When we were ment to loose control
Sorcerers
