

When My Sun Comes Down

Lake of Tears

Close my eyes, think of the rain think of an evening the same dream it is autumn outside an evening to hide

Someone to carry me home to forests where I do belong close my eyes, little bit scared and no one to care

And when my sun comes down
and you won't hold my hand, it's okay
'Cause when my sun comes down
I'll be walking a darker way
it's okay, it's alright

Close my heart, hold on to evil embracing the only, the Foul dream it is twilight outside
an evening to hide
Oh raven, say will it be mine the golden, the line of my time fading and I am not scared Five ravens to bear

and you won't hold my hand, it's okay
'Cause when my sun comes down
I'll be walking a darker way
it's okay
'Cause when my sun comes down I'll be walking a lighter way
it's okay, it's alright
