

The End

Laleh

I might as well admit it I fell for your letters and your smile and when you stopped smiling I stopped hoping.
And we didn't say what we feel, we both knew the end was close and saying nothing is almost like lying.

The way you talk so loud of you and you're glory days now and I can't even say your name
The way you talk so proud of you and your glory days now in my last breath I will say your name, I'll say your name

In my last breath I will say, I'll say your name.

oh, in my last breath you gonna make me
you gonna make me say your name.

And we spoke from the heart and I know I played my part in it when I said never ever.
I don't know why I said it no I didn't mean it not to be together.
together

The way you talk so loud
of you and your glory days now
and I can't even say your name
The way you talk so proud
of you and your glory days now

oh, in my last breath you gonna make me you gonna make me say your name.
oh, my last words, my last words will be There is something in your voice there's just something I just can't explain in my last breath i will say your name your name
