

Butterfly Effect

Lamb

Come and shine your light upon me honey bee
And we'll take a trip to hell exponentially
And all the world will know
And all the world will know

There is something in your eyes I know is mine
And knowing such a thing goes up and down my spine
And all the world will know

La la la la la
La la la la la
La la la la la

Quicker than the both of us it moves my mind
Like some elemental thing the universe desires

And all the world will know
The world will know
The world will know
The world will know