

Off To The Races

Lana Del Rey

My man is a bad man
But I can't deny the way he holds my hand
And he grabs me, he has me by my heart
He doesn't run to heaven
Lost faith, guest pass
He doesn't mind to have a L.A crossword above me
He loves with every beat of his cocaine heart

Swimming pool
Glimmering darling
Whipping, can y'all fit my red nail polish
Watch me in the swimming pool
Bright blue ripping you
Sip and sitting on your black crystal oh yeah

Neither my life, found my lines
Be a good baby, do what I want
Widen my life, far off my lines
Give me them gold coins
Give me them coins

And I'm off to the races, races
Bacardi chases
Chasing me all over town
Cause he knows I'm wasted, facing
Time to get the right girls
Ellen and I won't get out

Because I'm crazy, baby
I need you to come here and save me
I'm your little Scarlett, starlet
Singing in the garden,
Kiss me on my open mouth

My man is a tough man
But he got a soul, his way his blood red jam
And he shows me, he knows me every inch of my tall black soul
He doesn't mind I have a flat broke down life
In fact he says he thinks it's why he might like about me, admires me
The way I roll like a rolling stone

Likes to watch me in the glass room, bathroom
Tractor mama
Slipping on my red dress, putting on my make up
Glass full, perfume, cognac, white light, fume
Says it feels like heaven to him

Light up his life, fire at his loins
Keep me forever, tell me you want me
Light up your life, fire at your loins
Tell me you want me, give me them coins

And I'm off to the races, races
Bacardi chases
Chasing me all over town
Cause he knows I'm wasted, facing
Time to get the right girls

Ellen and I won't get out

Because I'm crazy, baby
I need you to come here and save me
I'm your little Scarlett, starlet
Singing in the garden,
Kiss me on my open mouth

And I'm off to the races, races
Lighter as my waist is
Tired like I'm falling down
I can see your faces, shameless
Tip you on this basement
Love you, but I'm going down

God I'm so crazy, baby
I'm sorry that I'm misbehaving
I'm your little Scarlett, starlet
Queens or Coney Island
Raising how all over town
Sorry about it

My old man is a thief
And I'm gonna stay and pray with him til the end
But I trust him
The decision of a life, to watch overrise
Take him anyway if you may
I'm not afraid to say
That I'd died without him
Who else is gonna glit up with me this way
I need you, I breathe you, I'll never leave you
They will ruin the day I was alone without you

Your lion with your boat train on
Sick of hanging from your lips
I said hon' you never looked so beautiful

And I'm off to the races, races
Ready set the game is Down and I'm going in
To Las Vegas, pray us
Cause he'll know how raises
Honey it is time to spit
Boy you're so crazy, baby
I love you forever
Not maybe
You are my one true love
You are my one true love
