

Eternal Waters

Lana Lane

Floating in a sea of time and space
Waiting for her silver sun to shine me home
Drowning in a veil of pearls and lace
And the sweet blue mist of long, long ago

Where there is faith, she will bring truth

Lillian can free stars from the sky
Her gentle breathing moves the sleeping tide
She'll free your soul and give you wings to fly

See the song of dreams in fireflies
Lighting every silent star that cries for more

Where there is hope, she will bring love

Lillian can free stars from the sky
Her gentle breathing moves the sleeping tide
She'll free your soul and give you wings to fly

Lillian can free stars from the sky
Her gentle breathing moves the sleeping tide
She'll free your soul and give you wings to fly
Lillian can free stars from the sky
Her gentle breathing moves the sleeping tide
She'll free your soul and give you wings to fly
