Shine On Golden Sun

Lana Lane

In a forest deep down a well
Covered in snow
Lies a secret of kings long ago

Winter's blanket melting away Under the sun Shadows warn of darkness to come

Shine on golden sun Show man's darkest deed Wake the roses of tomorrow Burn their thorns of greed

A weary soldier stops for a drink And closes his eyes As heaven fills with fireflies

A cold wind whispers into his ear A story to tell His freedom rings from inside the well

Shine on golden sun Show man's darkest deed Wake the roses of tomorrow Burn their thorns of greed

Now the truth is known
The son will rise and journey home
Returning to his rightful throne

Shine on golden sun Show man's darkest deed Wake the roses of tomorrow Burn their thorns of greed
