

The Dream That Never Ends

Lana Lane

If I could I would change how it went for us
If I could I would redo everything
If I could I would change what they think of us
If I could I would

Out of a dream, a mystical dream
Where reason flies
A forever scene of one figurine
Where beauty never dies

It's all about moments and if you were there
You'd see all the lust and the fire in her stare
The context is fluid, the subject is sin
The moment of madness begins

Lady Macbeth
Marked for death
Lady Macbeth
With every breath

Lady Macbeth
I see you everywhere
Every beat of your heart
Every breath in the air
It's dark in the day every now and again
Your story is just 'round the bend
The dream that never ends

In the fire, the forever fire
It's out of control
Send bishop to squire into the mire
They won't make your whole

It's all about living the life that you make You're haunted by ghosts of the lives that you take You'll never repay it the cost of your sin
The moment of madness begins

Lady Macbeth ...

Out of a dream, a mystical dream
On wings of desire
A forever scene of figurine
A never ending fire

It's all about moments and if you were there
You'd see all the lust and the fire in her stare
No rest for the weary, no end to the scene
Like some kind of evil machine

Lady Macbeth
Marked for death
Lady Macbeth
With every breath

Lady Macbeth
I see you everywhere

Every beat of your heart
Every breath in the air
Your story is just 'round the bend

If I could I would
