

Holding On

Lansdowne

You know I knew it from the moment that you walked in,
Somebody else was lingering on your skin,
Tell me now, where were you last night?

You said your friends got together for a few drinks,
Which of your friends left a number in your pocket?
Tell me now, did you think I was blind?

I don't wanna know the reason why

And I waited up 'cause I had to know,
I can't move on and I can't let go,
Holding on and waiting,
Watching as we're fading.
And I waited so you'd watch me leave,
But I can't move and I can't breathe,
Holding on and waiting,
We're watching as we're fading... away.

I can't believe I never put it all together,
The evidence was there but even then I never,
Thought you'd do something like this.
All the years and the tears that we put in,
Just to end like this wasn't worth it,
You're reaching out but I'm already gone,
I'm gone.

I don't wanna know the reason why,
Sorry I had enough to say goodbye.

And I waited up 'cause I had to know,
I can't move on and I can't let go,
Holding on and waiting,
Watching as we're fading.
And I waited so you'd watch me leave,
But I can't move and I can't breathe,
Holding on and waiting,
We're watching as we're fading

I watched it all fall apart,
We hit the ground and I'm running,
I'm gone, I'm not looking back.

And I waited up 'cause I had to know
Oh, I can't look back and I can't let go.
Holding on and waiting,
Watching as we're fading.
And I waited so you'd watch me leave,
But I can't move and I can't breathe,
Holding on and waiting,
We're watching as we're fading, yeah!

We're fading away.
Holding on and waiting,
Watching as we're fading... away.

You know I knew it from the moment that you walked in,

You know I knew it from the moment that you walked in.
