If You See Her

let me see her

just look at us you'd never bet against our love got that kind of thing that lasts table for 2 she said for life so i'm confused how'd she turn it off so fast don't know what she left me for she won't talk to me anymore so if you see her tell her i'd do anything, i need her i know i'm not perfect but we were she says she doesn't love me, don't believe her if you see her maybe today my phone will ring, i'll see her name trying not to hold my breath it's all a blur but i remember holding her last time that i was in her bed woke up with her head on my chest this doesn't make any sense so if you see her tell her i'd do anything, i need her i know i'm not perfect but we were she says she doesn't love me, don't believe her if you see her does she remember the night before goodbye she said forever and made me swear i'd never leave her she says she doesn't love me, don't believer her if you see her, yeah so if you see her tell her i'd do anything, i need her (i need her) i know i'm not perfect but we were she says she doesn't love me, don't believe her (don't believe her) if you see her (if you see her) does she remember the night before goodbye she said forever and made me swear i'd never leave her she says she doesn't love me, don't believer her if you see her if you see her tell her that she's fucked it, i can't read her we both know she's not perfect either but if she says she loves me, let me see her
