

The Breakup

LANY

Jumping heart to heart, and it's starting to wear me down
"He's a total dick" is my reputation around town
My momma always said, hey take it slow
How the hell do you fall in love?
The last time I checked you can't fall in slow mo

You think you wanna be, you wanna be alone
Just wait until you're crying on the shower floor
It hits you in the chest, 'bout how every day you're done
Cause once you let it go, you better know it's gone
Oooh ooh
It's never the same, uh, yeah, after the breakup
Oooh ooh
It's never the same, love, don't try to make up

Middle of the day, middle of the road, I'm dead
They've got a pretty face
But they've got a pretty empty head
And I want to stick around but damn I'm bored
How the hell do you stay in love
You're at dinner looking dumb playing with your knife and fork

You think you wanna be, you wanna be alone
Just wait until you're crying on the shower floor
It hits you in the chest, 'bout how every day you're done
Cause once you let it go, you better know it's gone
Oooh ooh
It's never the same, uh, after the breakup
Oooh ooh
It's never the same, love, don't try to make up

You think you wanna be, you wanna be alone
Just wait until you're crying on the shower floor
It hits you in the chest, 'bout how every day you're done
Cause once you let it go, you better know it's gone
Oooh ooh
