

Seven Months

Låpsley

In seven months and many ways
I lost such things
And every night when you played
I would wonder out

Seven months, I feel I gave all myself
And every night, I would say I had my doubt

And I would take the long way home and you would follow up
But I would always be alone and never seemed to be enough, be e nough

In seven months, I felt a change
I felt some kind of shift
In seven months, I tried my best
But I know that we all drift

Every night I would stay and you would depart Every night the space between would freeze our heart

And you can change your mind, but I will also
You could lose your way, but I will never know
You can change your mind, but I will also
You can move away and I would never know

And I would take the long way home and would follow up
But I would always be alone and never seemed to be enough, be e nough
