

Say Something

Lapush

You electrify me with the weight of your heart
You'll figure it out next year
Tried to prepare for this but leaving you Still makes me cry
You'll be around next year

And if you're out there just say something
Say everything is all right
If your ship has set for the open air
Just give us a sign your all right

I'd do anything just to keep you here by my side
Maybe in another time
I wish I could take away all the sadness surrounding your mind
Maybe in a lucid dream

And if you're out there just say something
Say everything is all right
If your ship has set for the open air
Just give us a sign your all right

You're still on my mind this can take some time
Slow down it's all right
