Lying

Got this feeling lately Something's on your mind Your friends don't like me baby Wonder what they've said today You know I love you What's going on Let's move on, don't think about them, know that they are wrong

You got to hold on No matter what they say If you fail to be strong They're gonna have it just their way

'Cause my heart ain't lying
No my heart ain't lying
'Cause my heart ain't lying

Is there something baby Can you give a sign The stories they are telling You know every word is a lie You can believe me My love is true Let's move on, those people only like to see you blue

You've got to hold on No matter what they say If you fail to be strong They're gonna have it just their way 'Cause my heart ain't lying

'Cause my heart ain't lying No my heart ain't lying
