

Ready for the Storm

Last Tribe

I've been told that you lost your soul somewhere in the dark
Maybe you know where you should search or you don't know at all
Look at your shadow look deep inside tell me what do you see
Don't you fool me I see it all you can't escape

Your destiny needs to be free. No one else can decide
Open your mind and see what you find. Don't you say that I lied

One of a kind
You never will find someone just like you
It's only your mind that can decide
Your power your future
Your choice and your goal

I've been told that you lost your goal somewhere in the night
You're searching for help that you can't get. Follow your own light
Who can you trust in this dark world? Who is preaching lies?
Will you find the answer of life before you die

Your destiny needs to be free. No one else can decide
Open your mind and see what you find. Don't you say that I lied

One of a kind
You never will find someone just like you
It's only your mind that can decide
Your power your future
Your choice and your goal

One of a kind
You never will find someone just like you
It's only your mind that can decide
Your power your future
Your choice and your goal
Your power your future
Your choice and your goal

Your destiny needs to be free. No one else can decide
Open your mind and see what you find. Don't you say that I lied
