

Wake Up the World

Last Tribe

Your longing for answers won't go away
Burning inside your heart
Your wounds won't heal if you stay
It's time for your mission to start

Night after night and year upon year
You've been praying on your knees
But who's gonna listen to your voice
When the falls are you're disease

Leave the pain forget the past
A new journey will come
The darkest hour just passed away
Don't think of what you've done

No more fears to keep you away
No more tears will make you stay

Wake up the world
Let them all know
You are not beaten yet
Leaving the evil far behind
Heading for the golden sign above
Wake up the world
Let them all know
There is still more to say
Words that will change the universe
Scream for your life until everyone is awake

Your longing for answers won't go away
Burning inside your heart
Your wounds won't heal if you stay
It's time for your mission to start

No more fears to keep you away
No more tears will make you stay

Wake up the world
Let them all know
You are not beaten yet
Leaving the evil far behind
Heading for the golden sign above
Wake up the world
Let them all know
There is still more to say
Words that will change the universe
Scream for your life until everyone is awake
