

For Someone So Easy Going, You Sure Do Wear Pants A Lot

Latterman

Stumbling on the words again.
Trying to make it all sound positive.
But 40 miles heading south with the radio
Preaching to me i shouldn't be happy with me.
Well fuck you is all i have to say
Because self-doubt can still hurt me today.
I'll live my life my fucking way.

With self-doubt in my heart in my way.
While my culture says i'm not ok.
I've spent too many days
With a smile on my face
To have not found an amazing place.
Long island diy.
And despite our faults
We can build something amazing.
If we believe in ourselves.

And a good friend has said to me
He may still wish he's 15.
I told him to create his own circumstances.
Yet i truly understand
We can't always make our lives
Seem happy all the time.
Just remember the strength is always there.

Sometimes it's not all easy.
So let's take a step back.
Question everything
And tell ourselves we'll make this ok.
