For Someone So Easy Going, You Sure Do Wear Pants A Lot

Latterman

Stumbling on the words again.

Trying to make it all sound positive.

But 40 miles heading south with the radio

Preaching to me i shouldn't be happy with me.

Well fuck you is all i have to say

Because self-doubt can still hurt me today.

I'll live my life my fucking way.

With self-doubt in my heart in my way. While my culture says i'm not ok.

I've spent too many days
With a smile on my face
To have not found an amazing place.

Long island diy.

And despite our faults
We can build something amazing.

If we believe in ourselves.

And a good friend has said to me
He may still wish he's 15.
I told him to create his own circumstances.
Yet i truly understand
We can't always make our lives
Seem happy all the time.
Just remember the strength is always there.

Sometimes it's not all easy.
So let's take a step back.
Question everything
And tell ourselves we'll make this ok.