

Yo, Get Into It

Latterman

We hope there is solution in these days
So we wait
For new ideas to get us away
Where to start, where to break and let go
Where to move, where to look and where to grow
Covered in blanket
Statements try to break free again and again
We move past these empty walls

Start to look for our connections to get us through
Someday soon
Always remember to send out
The glowing praises as we look to attempt
To get out of these boxes
We need to get out of these boxes
We'll break away one of these days
And tell ourselves
There are no connections to these screens
