

Single Girls

Laura Jansen

I think you'd like my new hair
I cut it when you weren't there
And pieces of us everywhere
Were falling down

My bed is now a girl's bed
Pink flowers under my head
And pillows on your side
Instead of you

'Cause that's what single girls do
Don't think about you

I'm reading books on meditation
Praying for my heart's salvation
Oh, I've got the motivation
To be a free girl now

And I've gone drinking with the guy down the hall
Put up a new color on my bare walls
I'm so damn busy
After all

'Cause that's what single girls do
Don't think about you

And I keep trying
I keep trying
To make my way back to the light
Where I belong
But God keeps lying
God keeps lying
Saying this is for the best
And nothing here is wrong

But I'm still thinking 'bout
I'm still thinking 'bout
I'm still thinking about you
Still think about you

I think you'd like my new hair
I cut it like I didn't care
The pieces of me everywhere
Were falling down

One more glass of wine
Before I turn off the lights this time
This time I'll be fine
I'll be fine
I'll be fine
I'll be fine
Oh-oh-oh