Overcome

Laura Mvula

When your heart is broken down And your head don't reach the sky Take your broken wings and fly

When your head is heavy, low And the tears they keep falling Take your broken feet and run

With the world upon your shoulders Nowhere left to hide Keep your head up carry on

It ain't no time to die Even though we suffer Come together we pray

Round the mountain all God's children run
Round the mountain all God's children run
Round the mountain all God's children run
Round the mountain all God's children
God's children run run round the mountain run
Round the mountain all God's children
God's children run run round the mountain run
Round the mountain all God's children run
Round the mountain all God's children run
