Slow conversations keep drawing me in
I lose concentration, don't know where I've been
I figured it out
I figured you out
And you take control while I stop making sense
Claiming my soul for your lost innocence
I wanna get out
I can't get out

So will you let me know how this became obsession? Will you let me go after our confession? Cause I know that we will show the signs There's time

Dim the lights, let's begin Cause now the air's getting thin Baby, just breathe me in Can't you just breathe me in?

I felt so stupid while you shut your eyes Taking the leap into faith in disguise You're coming around, ooh ooh You're coming around

So will you let me know how this became obsession? Will you let me go after our confession? Cause I know that we will show the signs There's time

Dim the lights, let's begin Cause now the air's getting thin Baby, just breathe me in Can't you just breathe me in? (3x)
