

Funny Thing About Love

Lauren Alaina

You used to want me
But I didn't want you
But now I want you
Oh, but you don't want me

Why can't our two hearts
Just make up their minds?
And want the same thing
At the same time

The funny thing about love
It never makes sense
It just keeps messing you up
It never makes sense, never makes sense
You let it go, never want it back
You turn around and just like that
You swear you can't get enough
That's the funny thing about love
That's the funny thing about love

We were best friends
Until I kissed you
You know you liked it
And I did too

As soon you admit you're crazy about me
I'm off and running, the soon enough you'll see

The funny thing about love
It never makes sense
It just keeps messing you up
It never makes sense, never makes sense
You let it go, never want it back
You turn around and just like that
You swear you can't get enough
That's the funny thing about love
That's the funny thing about love

It makes you crazy
It will make you do the stupidest stuff
You can't live without it yeah
That's the funny thing about love, yeah

The funny thing about love
It never makes sense
It just keeps messing you up
It never makes sense, never makes sense
You let it go, never want it back
You turn around and just like that
You swear you can't get enough
You swear you can't get enough
That's the funny thing about love
That's the funny thing about love

The funny thing about love
It never makes sense
It just keeps messing you up
