

Holding the Other

Lauren Alaina

It's a battleground
Everywhere you go, there's something trying to take you down
So hard to stand up when they're kicking you around
Putting your fire out
Putting it out
Hey, hey

But I'm not scared and I'm not shaking
Yeah, I've got armor and they can't break it

'Cause you kiss me back together when I'm falling apart
When the music's gone, I'm dancing to the beat of your heart
You're the breath in my lungs when the gravity's pulling me under

I could win any war
I could face any storm
Yeah, I could conquer the world
With just one hand
As long as you're holding the other

Saving grace
Baby, you're the hope I find behind my mistakes
Hold me close and I'll forget about the pain
You take it all away
You take it away
Yes, you do

So I'm not scared of what tomorrow brings
'Cause you're right here and I can do anything

'Cause you kiss me back together when I'm falling apart
When the music's gone, I'm dancing to the beat of your heart
You're the breath in my lungs when the gravity's pulling me under

Oh, I could win any war
I could face any storm
Yeah, I could conquer the world
With just one hand
As long as you're holding the other
Holding the other

I can do anything
Anything, oh

'Cause you kiss me back together when I'm falling apart
Apart, apart

Oh, I could win any war
And I could face any storm
Yeah, I could conquer the world
Conquer the world, conquer the world, conquer the world

'Cause you kiss me back together when I'm falling apart
When the music's gone, I'm dancing to the beat of your heart
You're the breath in my lungs when the gravity's pulling me under

Oh, I could win any war

And I could face any storm
With just one hand

Hey
