

Hope You Don't Mind

Lauren Hoffman

Not so long ago I was a little thing with dolls and stars and dreams,
Not so long ago I didn't know much of anything but love, love, love.
yeah, momma don't go away and daddy come home,
I'll be waiting in the backyard with my high-heels on,
Tell me a story about a girl and a shoe,
While I'm waiting for my dream to come true.
Yeah daddy won't you tell me what it means to be alive,
I've got blood and bones and love and guts and things I can't describe,
Daddy always shot it straight,
He said "Girl don't you know?,
We've got to try and find ourselves some peace,
Before we all go and I hope you don't mind,
The world's fucked up and we're all gonna,
I hope you don't mind the world's fucked up and we're all gonna die".
I love the way the sun goes round and lights up the moon,
I love a lazy morning when I sleep well past noon,
I love it when we kiss all day we roll around all night,
I love it when the moon peaks in and hits your eyes just right,
It's just right but I hope you don't mind,
The world's fucked up and we're all gonna,
I hope you don't mind the world's fucked up and we're all gonna die.
