

You Broke My Heart

Lavender Diamond

You broke my heart
you broke my heart
you broke my heart
you broke my heart
you broke my heart
you broke my heart
you broke my heart
you broke my heart

where will we war if you were old? where would you war if you had been told?

when we were all ready for sleep and we were lost in what we keep it's in the age of love you know about why do I hear what I can't see? why do I fear what I can be?

I feel the field of battle within my life
I hear the calvalry of light I see the sound of endless sight
I feel the field of battle within my life

I was blind and had no end and time of love with you, my friend begin the age of love and know above
