

Eternal Vengeance

Lazarus A.D.

Staring at these walls, confined for all my life...
Wondering if I'll ever again see the sunlight.
All my suffering, no one will understand.
Alone, I sit, no one to call or take my dead end.
'Round and 'round I wander, this enduring consequence...
Surrounded in my tomb by signs that don't make sense.
So I lie... WAITING FOR THE DAY THAT I DIE!

Drive a nail, in my coffin!
These runes no longer exist!
A thousand nights, with endless torture,
clenched within my fist!
Liberation!
A perfect sentence comes to mind!
Preparation!
No soul to spare, they all must die.

You took away my life, stripped all the pride that I had.
This action's not in vain, as I seek eternal vengeance!
You took away my life, stripped all the pride that I had.
This action's not in vain, as I seek eternal vengeance!

Outside the walls, I detected a means for my escape!
No better build, I've rejected! Applaud in your destined place!
I make a stand, take what I can, their lives are meaningless to me!

Assured suicide, I will not hide!
My place will end their last crusade!

You took away my life, stripped all the pride that I had.
This action's not in vain, as I seek eternal vengeance!
You took away my life, stripped all the pride that I had.
This action's not in vain, as I seek eternal vengeance!

Stare into my eyes and witness my misery!
A man possessed with eternal vengeance,
A burning fire,
You left inside of me!

You took away my life, stripped all the pride that I had.
This action's not in vain, as I seek eternal vengeance!
You took away my life, stripped all the pride that I had.
This action's not in vain, as I seek eternal vengeance!
